Adults ages 18 and older are invited to attend the first 2012 Coppell Reads program at 7 p.m. Monday at the William T. Cozby Library, located at 177 N. Heartz Road in Coppell.

Those attending the program will make Art Deco punched tin art, which was popular in the 1920s.

Advanced registration is required.

This program is part of Coppell Reads, a citywide reading program for adults that encourages community members to read the same book at the same time. This year's selection is Remember Ben Clayton by Stephen Harrigan.

This moving novel tells the story of an aging sculptor, commissioned by a Texas rancher to create a memorial statue of his son, who was killed on the battlefields of WWI France.
